Primary Narrative By Gary Manning, 04/29/21 16:10

Battery / Criminal Mischief

On April 29, 2021 I arrived at the Youth Home Inc., located at 20400 Col. Glenn Road, to investigate a criminal mischief and battery complaint. I met with an employee by the name of Stephen Webb that advised me that a student by the name of [redacted] got into a disagreement and altercation with another student. At the end of the altercation, [redacted] jumped on the hood of another employee's vehicle (Tyteonia Morgan), and began hitting the front glass.

Webb advised me he attempted to pull [redacted] away from the vehicle. Webb stated he grabbed hold of [redacted] and punched him in the face an unknown number of times. I took photographs of Webb, but saw no injuries. I then spoke with another employee (Daniel Watson), and he advised me that he responded to assist Webb, and he observed [redacted] strike Webb five times. Webb and Watson were able to use a control maneuver, as they put it, to escort [redacted] to Building Four. Upon getting to Building Four, [redacted] was still struggling, and another employee (Ben Malone) intervened to assist in placing [redacted] on the ground. During this process, [redacted] bit Malone on the top side of his left hand. I took photographs of that minor injury.

I spoke with owner of the vehicle, another employee by the name of Tyteonia Morgan. Morgan advised she did not see any damages, but I could see a slight crease on the hood of the vehicle. I estimate the value to fix the crease at less than $50.00. Photographs were taken of the vehicle.

I met with [redacted] to check his welfare, and get his side of the event. [redacted] was calm at the time, and admitted to all that happened. [redacted] had one scratch on each arm, and I photographed them. [redacted] stated the scratches occurred as result of staff trying to control him.

All photographs were submitted to evidence, and all victims were advised of warrant process through juvenile court.
