Report Description: On 3/6/24 Client [REDACTED] age [REDACTED] [REDACTED] [REDACTED] went to the nurse station to ask for a PRN due to being upset around 2pm. When nurse was getting the client the PRN, client [REDACTED] stuck her hand into the nurse window grabbing a bottle of Ibuprofen. Client ran down the hallway and refused to give it to staff, opening up the bottle and ingesting undisclosed amount. Client ran into the restroom before staff could get it out of the clients mouth. Client had stated on Monday that she was trying to find a way to go to Arkansas Children's Hospital. [REDACTED] was called and MEM's was ordered to come and transport client to Children's Hospital. Client returned back at the RTC around 8pm. What we have done to change protocol on this, is make sure staff is always present at the window when clients are asking for medicine. Nursing staff is to close window if they move from the nurse window area, and we also have tapped off an area that "items" should not be, so clients can not obtain. Client arrived at Children's for ingestion, blood work was all normal, an EKG was done and normal, and and Oral Fluid Challenge was completed.

Interim Action Narrative: Staff tried to get the medication from resident, the doctor was called, and MEMS transported resident to ACH.
