Foreman, Matthew Chrysler Events Leading: Client was escalated since the beginning of the shift and non compliant and not following staff directions. Client earlier in the day was jumping on furniture, not staying in her area, grabbing things that did not belong to her, scratching her cuts and making them bleed, banging on tables and chairs and putting objects over her face and head. Client reported she was hungry and this is why she was acting out. Client then continued to escalate and began walking around the room and not following directions. Client continued to scratch her scabs and cuts. Client would not comply and continued to do unsafe behaviors and would not accept redirection. Client began tearing things off the wall. 5:55pm-Personal Restraint: Client was placed in a sitting personal restraint by staff due to increasingly escalated behaviors and unstable, unpredictable and unsafe behaviors when beginning to pull things off the wall after her continually being a threat to safety. Client began sliding herself into the floor so staff followed and continued with a floor restraint. 6:00pm-Personal Restraint End: Staff began to let go of the client to see if she was going to be compliant and contract for safety. 6:01pm-Personal Restraint: Client rolled on to her back and began attempting to self harm by biting her hand and then began kicking staff near her legs and staff restarted the restraint. 6:11pm-Personal Restraint End: Client began calming down and not resisting her restraint and contracted for safety so staff began letting go and allowed the client to sit up in the floor to further deescalate. Patient Debriefing date/time: 10/28/24 6:30pm: Client was still very
